Name Origin: The race was originally named the Mint Julep for the classic bourbon drink that serves as a Kentucky Derby Day tradition for race goers and Derby party guests throughout the world. It carried that title from its inaugural running in 1977 until it received corporate sponsorship in 2001 by Early Times Whiskey. Old Forester Mint Julep, a ready-to-serve cocktail made with Old Forester Kentucky Straight Bourbon Whisky, was named the “Official Drink of the Kentucky Derby” in 2015. Legendary bourbon innovator George Garvin Brown created Old Forester in 1870 which is America’s First Bottled Bourbon and the founding brand of Brown-Forman. Brown-Forman Corporation, Louisville, Kentucky, is a diversified producer and marketer of fine quality alcohol brands, including Jack Daniel’s, Southern Comfort, Finlandia Vodka, Tequila Herradura, el Jimador Tequila, Canadian Mist, Woodford Reserve, and Korbel California Champagnes.
