Name Origin: Race is named for the Cherokee Triangle, a historic neighborhood in Louisville, Ky. known for its large homes displaying an eclectic mix of architectural styles. Its boundaries are Bardstown Road to the southwest, Cherokee Park and Eastern Parkway to the southeast and Cave Hill Cemetary to the north, and is considered a part of a larger area of Louisville called The Highlands. It is named for nearby Cherokee Park, a 409-acre park designed by Frederick Law Olmstead, the designer of New York’s Central Park.
